WHEN STUPIDITY VOTES

HANDBOOK
ABOUT
REPUBLICAN

This work is intended as an educational tool to serve all who are or who have ever been the victim of Republican stupidity, but in particular, it was written for the sake of those among their children, who possessed conscience and thus chose defiance, in the face of right wing stupidity being shoved down their throats, forcing right wing stupidity upon them, diminishing first, the very purpose of childhood, and, once grown, then diminishing life itself.

It is for these, among whom I count myself, that I write these words, because for their parents, it is probably already far, far too late.

PURPOSE OF THIS BOOK

The purpose of this book is to showcase what the true values of a Republican state actually are, by highlighting these values, as they are expressed by Republicans in America. But, Republican values are fundamentally the same, in any country anywhere, that is, to indoctrinate others to want what they want them to want. By showcasing the character of these values, as they are expressed in America, they can be appreciated for the actual impact that they have upon the real world, both in America and everywhere else, as well as for the far-reaching impact that they have had on this world after decades of effort and work, successfully indoctrinating most Americans to indoctrinate their own children and family, and friends into this recent Republican culture, and to great effect.

Republican state - a world in which church and state are morphed into a single incoherent nightmare, and from which there is no escape to any other elsewhere, until either you, or the state, finally, at long last, die;

DEDICATION

This book is dedicated to all the victims of the cruel policies of greedy, uncaring, sponsors and promoters of Republican political movements, albeit under the banner of another name, but in particular, those that succeeded in America. This includes, especially, my siblings, all younger, each of whom was the victim of Republican stupidity. These chose defiance, instead of submission to the right wing stupidity being shoved down their throats daily, in childhood. This is, in great part, why the author chooses to write about what he does, and why his passion for doing so runs so deep, and his efforts are so relentlessly tenacious, as they are expressed in the bitterly harsh and what he hopes are harmfully wounding words that he chooses to use in his task. Each is true. He seeks to expose the frail character of the treasonously destructive evil behind the Republican veil, because that is exactly what it deserves in our now scientifically enlightened, modern world. Indeed it deserves much worse, because what all of humankind itself deserves is something so much more than petty, simple-minded, and always corrupt, Republican stupidity. Namely, it deserves freedom from enforced ignorance (this being how Republicans have always been able to succeed at their primary business of possessing and owning everything that they can, especially the mind, because again, it is this that is their very business: possession, ownership, and rule).

WHEN STUPIDITY VOTES

When stupidity votes, it always votes Republican.

The Proof: Most
Republicans believe that
"clean coal"
is actually true.

A Handbook for Voting Republican

Republicans know full well that, through their vote, they readily and routinely lie, cheat, steal, and /or betray to get what they want (just as they know also that every last thing stated in this content is factually true). Truth fails them.

The Proof: Republican integrity is a term that not even a Republican would ever use.

WHEN STUPIDITY VOTES

If a Republican's mouth is moving and words are coming out about political policy, then he or she is probably lying.

A Republican has no choice but to vote in such a way as to readily and routinely lie, cheat, steal, and/or betray to get what they want (and likewise also know that they cannot avoid doing the same also, in denying that anything stated in this content is factually true; everything is).

A Handbook for Voting Republican

Being Republican means being a member of the political party that is openly - and, more often than not, proudly - dedicated to making the effects of global climate change far, far worse, by denying them (or lying, by pretending to deny while knowing otherwise). In a word, a Republican is a member of the political party that is the worst existential threat to complex life that has ever existed in the entire history of planet Earth - again, the worst threat that has ever existed in the entire history of the planet, indeed, in the solar system, and it is wholly man-made, and all the while, Republicans do it knowingly. It is what they are.
